PLAN FLIGHT ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

Official of British Air Ministry in Washington to Arrange for Initial Flight, Which Will Probably Be in the Autumn

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 21.—Big American air and seaplanes should be flying across the Atlantic to reach the front by next summer, Major General W. Brancker of the British air ministry said here today in a formal statement to the press.
He is in Washington to co-operate with the American aircraft officials and believes that a pioneer trans-Atlantic flight should be attempted without delay.
General Brancker disclosed the fact that the British air council had definitely decided on trans-Atlantic aircraft flights in order to find a route for the movement of American made aircraft to the front.
His mission here has to do with the arrangements of the pioneer flight in which it is hoped that the American officials will co-operate. It is expected the initial flight will be made this autumn in a machine of British make, probably a seaplane, starting from Newfoundland and touching at the Azores and Portugal before arriving in Ireland.
It has been estimated that the trip can be made in 40 hours of flying. Plans under consideration call for crews of four men, an engineer, a relief of pilots, and a navigating officer.

IMMIGRANTS HELD UP BY FAKE AGENTS

Bangor, June 21.—Hungarians arriving in Bangor from Halifax Thursday report that they were held up at Amherst, N. S., on the train by a man who posed as an immigration official and told them that they could not proceed further on their destination, Boston, unless they paid $25 each according to a new government rule.

The supposed official displayed a badge and succeeded in coaxing $15 from one of the Hungarians, but some, including Frank Pedelsky, demanded that he be shown the regulation requiring this assessment. When he pressed his claim he was allowed to go on.
On arriving here he made complaint against what he characterized as a holdup on ignorant immigrants and demanded an investigation.

Enemy Losses in Fighting on Piave Front Enormous—Italians Take Several Hundred Prisoners—Germans Fail to Regain Lost Ground in Flanders

ESCAPE FROM NAVY YARD GUARD HOUSE

(By Associated Press)
Boston, June 21.—John Zeigler, a member of the U. S. Marine Corps for 28 years, and George Townsend who enlisted a few months ago, escaped from the guard house at the Charlestown navy yard early today.
After their arrest at Bangor recently on the charge of desertion they were tried by court martial and were awaiting sentence. The men saved the bars of their cell and forced the outer doors of the guard house. Immediately after their escape was discovered the navy yard was searched but no trace of the men was found.

AMERICANS NOW HOLD 38 MILES

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 21.—American soldiers are now holding a fighting line of 38 miles on the western front according to information given the House military committee today.
Enemy patrols suffered considerable losses northwest of Chateau Thierry and in the Woivre region, General Pershing reported today in his communication of yesterday. In the Chateau Thierry region and in Lorraine the artillery fire continues.

(By Associated Press)

Italian Army Headquarters, Thursday.—The first American aviators to fly on the Italian front went today on a bombing expedition and succeeded in blowing two holes in a new Austrian bridge across the Piave river.

Rome, June 21.—The efforts of the Austrians to widen the northeastern salient on Montello, the keystone of the Piave front, failed, Premier Orlando informed Parliament tonight.
The enemy crossed the Montebelluna-Susegana railway at several points near the Niverna station but was promptly stopped. On the lower Piave the Italians gained some ground.

The enemy losses were enormous and the Italians took several hundred prisoners.

Paris, June 21.—French troops last night carried out operations southwest of Soissons, which resulted in an improvement of their position. A similar improvement was effected near Hauboves, the war office announced.

London, June 21.—Further extensive raiding and patrol operations were carried out by the British last night in the Arras region and near Albert. Attempts by the Germans to regain ground lost yesterday near Merris were repulsed.

OPEN SUIT FOR $10,000 AGAINST THE RAILROAD

Plaintiff Claims Negligence on Part of Boston and Maine Railroad.

The case of Strighl Natale against the Boston & Maine railroad was opened in the superior court on Thursday.

Natale, the plaintiff, sues for the sum of $10,000 as the result of an accident at the Portsmouth depot which occurred on August 1, 1916.

He claims that while he was getting on a Manchester train on that date, the train started and caused him to be thrown in such a way that his foot was so badly crushed that amputation was necessary at the Portsmouth hospital where he was under treatment for 12 weeks.

The railroad claims that the man attempted to get on the train while it was in motion, and that there is no fault attached to the defendant company. The railroad is represented by Attorneys Hatch and Hughes and the plaintiff by Judge B. L. Guphill and R. C. Gray.

MAY HAVE TO MAKE THE DRAW LARGER

Location of Standard Oil Company Wharf a Question.

A report is in circulation to the effect that the draw sections of the Noble's Island bridge will have to be enlarged by the Boston & Maine railroad unless the Standard Oil Company can secure the necessary wharf room along the water front for tank steamers.

The company it is said is planning to build a wharf on the property recently purchased which would be reached only by the steamers passing through the draw that is at present not wide enough to allow such passage.
The Boston and Maine is understood to be opposed to the operation of this draw to any great extent on account of the likely delay that would be caused to traffic. The railroad is also said to be opposed to a lease of the old Eastern wharf to the oil company. If these reports are true it is hard to understand where the Standard Oil Company fits.

(By Associated Press)
Paris, June 21.—The leading American ace in the French flying corps, 1st Lieutenant Frank L. Baylies of New Bedford, Mass., is missing after an unequal fight with four German machines on June 17th.
Lieutenant Baylies, with two other airmen had finished several hours patrolling and were about to return to their headquarters, when four single seated German airplanes attacked Baylies simultaneously. Baylies put up a game fight. He attempted to take the offensive, but his machine caught fire and fell after a few moments, about 6 miles within the German lines.

One of the airmen who was with Baylies thinks he may have made a safe landing if he escaped death in his burning machine.

Recently Miss Rhoda Erdmann, also at Yale as a lecturer on a research fellowship, was interned as an enemy alien, and afterward Prof. Goldschmidt, another German of distinguished scholarship, attainments who through courtesy had the freedom of the University laboratories, was arrested and interned in a southern camp.

AUSTRIAN OFFENSIVE IS BREAKING DOWN

To all outward appearances the Austrians thus far have met with nothing but failure in their offensive in the hill region additional ground in the Italian front.

has been taken by the British and along the Plave river, where the fighting is intense the balance of victory seems to be leaning toward the Italians.

South and east of Asiago plateau the French and Italians have taken the villages of Peniar, Berigolo and Costalunga for which the Austrians had been fighting for several days. The Italians captured several hundred prisoners, machine guns and etc.

Over the entire mountain sector where the Austrians have remained very quiet there is not much going on and the Austrians are attacking with no life. Further south on the Plave river the same spirit is seen but not to the same extent and they are throwing more and more of the great struggle in the Montello sector the Austrians have fallen back across the river under the Italian pressure.

It is improbable that the Italians will take many prisoners, as it is known that the bridges across the Plave river over the eleven mile front as the number of bridges constructed across the river have been carried away by the flood leaving the Italians on the right bank in a good position to force the Austrians back into the river to be interned for the war.

Meanwhile the food situation in the Italian peninsula is causing great trouble and trouble is still further in store for the bread situation. In Vienna mobs have stormed the bakeries, the residence of the Premier Minister and even one wing of the imperial palace. It is also rumored that there has been some disturbance in Berlin.

There is little fighting on the western front other than a few minor engagements.

The American army has again made gains in the Chateau Thierry region. They shelled the Yellow Woods and have advanced their line fully half a mile, the Germans fleeing.

The German war office claims that the Germans penetrated an American position in the Toul sector and carried off prisoners and loot.

AGE LIMIT LIKELY WILL BE EXTENDED

Washington, June 21.—Military leaders in Congress said Thursday that they have very good reason to believe that the Administration will send a bill to Congress extending the draft age limits. The statements were made in the face of Secretary Baker's assertions last night that while the War Department will not oppose extension of the initiative must rest with Congress. The leaders are confident that the Administration will lay its programme before the House and the Senate within a few weeks. Provost Marshal General Crowder, gave the Senate Committee on Military Affairs facts and figures showing why it was imperative to increase the age limit only after he had the permission of the department to do so.

Members of the Military Committee indicate that the Administration does not intend to make its announcement until it has fully completed its programme. They believe that when all of the points at issue have been decided, Secretary Baker will send the bill and recommendations to the committees of the two branches, or President Wilson will address the members in joint session. The principal question now being debated is, what additional classes will be made liable for military service. General Crowder favors the drafting of men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, but the proposal to assemble men who have not reached their majority is meeting exceptionally strong opposition. Even Julius Kahn, the Republican military leader in the House, will fight this proposal. It is probable that the bill, when enacted, if not when presented, will provide for registration of men between thirty-one and forty-five years. Members of the military committee are preparing for the coming contests in the House and Senate. Some favor the proposal, some are opposed to it. Every indication now is that the contents may repeat the scenes which preceded enactment of the original conscription act, with Congressman Kahn again leading the fight in the House and with Senator Chamberlain championing the bill in the Senate. Chairman Dent of the Military Committee of the House does not see the necessity of the proposed legislation. I do not believe that the situation at this time requires extension of the age limits, he said to your correspondent this morning.

I shall not act until I am given figures proving that it is necessary to extend the age limits. General Crowder told our committee only a short time ago that if he could draft men between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one and could induce men as rapidly as they observe their twenty-first birthday he could meet the military demands of the nation. With the bill on the statute books only a comparatively few months he now comes around and says he must have more men. Nothing has been done by the committee and nothing will be done by the committee until I am officially requested by the War Department to proceed. I question whether the committee would vote out a bill to draft men between eighteen and twenty-one years."

Thursday evening at the Emory school the second annual prize speaking contest was heard by a large audience of well pleased parents and friends of the pupils. This school has been in charge of James A. Coleman as principal the past term. Following several teachers during the school year, the work as an election teacher is so well known it hardly needs further comment, but this class acquitted themselves in a manner most creditable to him and themselves, making the occasion worthy of remembrance by all who participated, either as speakers or auditors. The following program was given:

Thursday afternoon the graduating exercise of the No. 7 grammar school occurred at the South Eliot M. E. church, a class of twelve embracing the following pupils, giving a pleasing program under the direction of their teacher, Miss Helen Jordan:

Richard Cole, Stanley Cole, Hilda Cole, Marlon Cole, Rebecca Spinney, Hazel Spinney, Avis Spinney, Marjorie Spinney, Phyllis York, Edith Tibbegaue, Alma Leavitt, Carl Fernald. The winners of the program were announced by Supt. of Schools Leon P. Spinney who gave a short address in which a note of felicity was noticeable as well as the words of wisdom suitable to the occasion.

Bureau of Ares, June 20.—For some time past there has been an increased volume and variety in the prices of Ares stock exchange transactions, with prices constantly rising, which appears to indicate a revival of confidence, as it means that the huge sums which have been lying unproductive in the banks for so long are now being utilized in investments, both in industrial and Government bonds.

Another sign of the growing optimism is the revival in the foreign property market.

The Herald answers hundreds of questions every day about this city and vicinity.

Those who remained to obey order and hold position at any cost were killed with rifle fire, hand grenades and knives. The Americans took many prisoners.

BIG MEETING OF FARMERS

One of the biggest farmers meeting for a long time was held on Thursday at the farm of Mr. Walter B. Farmer, the hustling president of the Rockingham Farmers Association.

There were upwards of 1500 people present and a gathering of over 300 automobiles parked on the farm at one time.

There was a picnic lunch served and this was followed by a demonstration of the farm tractor with the single and gang plows. loved by a meeting in the grove which was of very great interest. President Farmer made an interesting talk and there were several short but farcical talks.

Among those from this city were: Messrs. F. L. Shaw, D. F. Bothwick, N. H. Beane, G. H. Leighton, J. K. Bates, R. W. Jenkins, R. L. Costello, E. H. Baker, F. M. Siso, W. W. Hartford, R. C. Margeson, C. A. Allen and J. A. Freeman.

SILVER WEDDING OF KING

London, June 20.—The English people will, on July 6, have the first opportunity since the days of George III to celebrate the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of their King and Queen and are preparing to mark the event to the fullest extent that war necessity and war sentiment will permit.

King George and Queen Mary have decided to accept a personal silver gift from the City of London and the Lord Mayor of London is raising a sum of money which will be bestowed upon some charity. Their majesties may select in honor of the anniversary.

Formal ceremonies of the day will be confined to special services at St. Paul's cathedral from which the King and Queen will go to Guildhall to receive the good wishes of the City of London. It is presumed that the people will take advantage of these drives to voice their congratulations.

British writers, deploring the fact that it would be improper during the war to have elaborate ceremonies, point to the contrast between the feeling of animosity toward the "German George" of the Eighteenth century and the attitude of the people toward the present King. The bitterness toward George III has lost nothing in the regaling of conditions of that time.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra celebrated their silver wedding thirty years ago when they were the Prince and Princess of Wales and the nation joined in the celebration.

YANKEES GREAT PISTOL FIGHTERS

Washington, June 20.—Hand-to-hand fighting between patrols in No Man's Land has made necessary a change in equipment of the American Army that will call for increased output of the 45-caliber automatic pistol. Manufacturers were urged by the War Department today to speed up production, although the output is now about 3000 pistols daily. The Germans are said to have a wholesale respect for mercurial pistol fighters, one bullet from an American "forty-five" invariably putting an enemy completely out of business.

TWO JUDGES FOR COURT MARTIAL

Paris, June 20.—The French Senate is being urged to reassert from its "grave" on the table a bill passed some two years ago by the Chamber which provides that every defendant before a court martial must have at least two judges of his own rank. The so-called Bonaparte Code of 1857, now in use, provides this for officers but not for privates or non-commissioned officers, and in fact no one below the rank of corporal, and only one of that grade, sits on the judges' bench at present.

DESTROY 835 FOE AIRPLANES

London (Via Ottawa), June 20.—Eight hundred and thirty-five German airplanes have been destroyed since Jan. 1, according to an official statement just issued which tends to prove that the German communiques are not reliable when dealing with losses of airplanes.

LAY KEEL OF FOURTH SHIP

The keel of the fourth ship was laid at the Atlantic Corporation on Thursday and the first ship is now up to her floor timbers for the first deck and the work is progressing very rapidly. The yard is well ahead of its schedule and there is a great bustle being made for a record.

A pound of wool picked by hand is the admission fee to a league which is part of the Rhode Island division of the woman's committee, Council of National Defense. Wool growers know that hundreds of pounds of wool are wasted in places where sheep are raised and to diminish this loss men, women and children are asked to gather all possible. All wool in excess of the admission fee is sold for at the market price in thrift stamps and the profits above the wholesale price are to be invested in war savings stamps.

TO CELEBRATE FOURTH ALL OVER THE WORLD

Paris, June 20.—Preparations under way may be taken as a criterion, the coming Fourth of July will be celebrated by the French in a manner unprecedented. Maurice Dore, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, has written to the Journal calling upon all Frenchmen to join in the celebration. He writes:

"The Fourth of July is as much a French holiday as American. It is a world holiday. France must not content itself with a few official manifestations. The whole people of France must celebrate. All the houses in Paris and the provinces must be decorated with French and American flags. Processions must be organized in Paris. Flowers must be deposited before the statue of Washington and the American flag must be raised at the same hour in all the cities, towns and villages of France. In all the schools, at the same moment, the teachers should explain the meaning of the celebration and the reasons why France and America should remain united forever."

"Let us celebrate July fourth, which in 1776 saw the birth of American liberty and one of the noblest episodes of the world."

U-BOAT CHASED STEAMER

An Atlantic Port, June 20.—An American steamer, arriving here today from Central American port, reported that at 4 P. M. yesterday afternoon, 189 to 200 miles south of Sandy Hook, she sighted a submarine and was pursued by the U-boat.

The captain said he put on full speed, zig-zagged and escaped by outdistancing the U-boat. His ship carried 67 passengers.

This is the first report of the appearance of a German raider so far north since ships were sunk by submarine attacks off the Jersey coast, the latter part of May.

Escapes U-Boat by Zig-Zag Route

A Gulf Port, June 20.—A coastwise passenger steamship which arrived here late yesterday reported encountering a German submarine last Saturday off the coast of South Carolina. The Steamship had superior speed and her wireless calls for help apparently yelped the submarine to give up the chase.

Officers sighted the submarine as it came to the surface less than a mile away. The raider started for the ship, and the Steamship began a zigzag course and when the submarine came to the surface again it was nearer, but as the Steamship forged ahead and began working her wireless the submarine dropped astern and was not seen again.

The swiftest dog in the world, the borzoi, or Russian wolfhound, has made record runs that show 75 feet in a second, while the gazelle has shown measured speed of more than 80 feet a second, which would give it a speed of 4800 feet in a minute if the pace could be kept up.

NO SUBMARINES HAVE BEEN DESTROYED

HAD NO EFFECT ON THE FIGHTERS

Lisbon, June 20.—The people of Lisbon gave President Pass an ovation when he assumed the duties of his office on "Proclamation Day." Pass, the first Portuguese president elected by universal suffrage, received more than half a million votes. His opponents refrained from voting.

He was elected in the face of the most bitter campaign, threats of death being freely made against prospective voters if they dared journey to the polls and drop their ballot. "You vote, you die" were the words written on many slips of paper nailed to houses or slipped under the doors of voters presumed to be partisans of the new regime.

The official proclamation took place at the Lisbon City Hall. People lined the streets and squares from the President's Palace to the City Hall, where double columns of police vainly attempted to keep the crowd back. President Pass, a little, martial figure, resplendently young looking for his 46 years, escorted by his guard of honor, ascended the dais. On his right was General Bernardino, Chief of the British Mission and next to him the Military Attache of the United States, General Bingham, and several other officers of the Allied Legations.

President Pass first granted a general amnesty for all political and military crimes and said that all the exiles would be allowed to return to Portugal.

He spoke of the insidious anti-patriotic campaign that had been waged against him and his government based on the calumny that Portugal as represented at present was hostile to the cause of the Allies and reiterated his determination to carry on the war on the side of the Allies with all the resources at the command of the country.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

Calcutta, India, June 20.—A seven-foot long cobra interrupted a game of golf between two military officers at Nungladon, near here, a few days ago. Lieutenant Colonel O'Hara, Commissioner of Penitentiaries to his friend's assistance and before the snake could strike again he killed it with his masher.

Amsterdam, June 20.—The latest hydraulic power system in Europe is to be built in Bavaria and operated as a public utility, according to plans completed recently. The power is to be obtained from Wachen Lake, in South Bavaria, and will be transmitted by cable from Koenigsberg to all towns and villages throughout Bavaria.

A commission which has been studying the undertaking for two years has submitted a detailed memorial to the Bavarian Diet, estimating the cost of the enterprise at 75,000,000 marks. The cost of the system is to be borne proportionately by the Bavarian government and the municipalities benefitting by this great electrical plant.

JAPAN'S READY AND MEANS BUSINESS

Tokyo, June 21, via London, June 20.—It is obvious that the Japanese public is aroused from its old attitude of indifference to war. This is apart from the actual preparations of the Government to engage in military operations in comparison with which those of the Russo-Japanese war were insignificant. First there is the Chief Japanese military convention; second, the recently created Bureau of Military Supplies, which is now actively coordinating the sources of supply of munitions and provisions of war, and third, changes in the high naval and military commands. It is also obvious that Japan is prepared.

Regarding the actual situation in Siberia the impression is gained from travelers and refugees arriving at Tokyo and now settled in the various parts of Japan in hundreds—and it cannot be ignored that these comprise the residents, officials, business men, Russian, Belgian, Italian, French, American and British, all of the superior classes—are overwhelmingly in favor of active military measures whose effects in Siberia would be the restoration of law and order, while in western Russia the knowledge of the Allied determination to act would hasten the progress of the Allied cause. Above all, it would remind Asiatic peoples that the Allies are not defeated. Such a reminder is badly needed, owing to active German propaganda.

The stock exchange today fell heavily on a rumor of a special session of the Diet and the determination of Japan to take all steps possible to divert German efforts.

AMERICANS ADVANCE A THOUSAND YARDS

Drive Germans From "Pocket" On Northern Side of Belleau Wood, Marne Front.

With American forces on the Marne, June 20 (Associated Press)—The American troops in this sector attacked the German line northwest of Chateau Thierry during the night and made an advance of 5-8 of a mile, driving the Germans back from a small pocket on the northern side of Belleau wood. The Americans occupied the German positions without resistance from the enemy. The Germans having withdrawn when the short and sharp preliminary artillery bombardment indicated that an infantry attack would follow.

Portsmouth, N. H., Friday, June 21, 1918.

A Shocking Disclosure.

It is yet too early for final judgment on the government war contract scandal which has been brought to light in Washington. The charge is made that there has been a conspiracy between manufacturers and agents having, or professing to have, a pull with men in a position to award contracts for war supplies, who have been securing contracts for the manufacturers on a commission basis. In a search for evidence, the offices of many manufacturing concerns in all parts of the country were raided simultaneously and it is claimed that much damaging evidence has been brought to light. A number of men have already been indicted, but, as this paper has before remarked, indictment is not conviction, and judgment as to guilt or innocence in individual cases should be suspended until the evidence has been adduced.

But that there is a basis for the charges goes without saying. The matter has been under investigation for some time and not all of this stir is being made about nothing. It seems safe to believe thus early in the matter that there has been scheming on a large scale to secure fat government contracts and that many manufacturers have been found ready to pay liberal commissions for aid in securing them. It is believed that where contracts have been secured in this way the contractors have added the commissions to the cost of the goods and that thus the government has been mulcted out of vast sums of money.

The painful thing in this connection is the reflection that there are so many men apparently ready to make all they can out of the war by fair means or foul. The indications are that in the midst of all the shouting about patriotism and sacrifice there are men who ought to be above profiteering that are bent upon "making hay while the sun shines," and who are not very particular as to how they make it.

It is only to be hoped that all the details of this nefarious business will be fully exposed and that the men engaged in it may be punished as they deserve. Publicity alone will constitute a severe punishment in the cases of many of them, but this will not be enough for those who have broken laws in striving for dishonorable gain.

The public will be shocked by this development, but that will not be the worst effect. If the common people become convinced that the speculators and grabbers are lining their pockets while the masses are undergoing privation and sacrifice without complaint, there is liable to spring up a feeling that it is time for every one to look out for himself. What the effect of this would be on the raising of war funds can readily be imagined, and the country wants nothing of the sort. But if it is not to have it this scandal must be probed to the very bottom and every convicted man must be dealt with in a manner to show that the government is able not only to protect itself, but also those who are doing their best to aid it in the prosecution of the awful war across the sea.

Henry B. Endicott, food administrator of Massachusetts, says there is more food value in milk at 14 cents a quart, or more, than in almost anything else that can be bought for the same money, and he is right. But the average person doesn't know it and clings to the all too popular idea that beef steak and roast beef are about the only real foods worthy of the name.

One German newspaper says with reference to the U-boats along the coast that "There will be scenes in the United States that will make the marrow in Wilson's bones run cold." And if all signs are not misleading there will soon be scenes on the western front that will make the marrow in the Kaiser's bones run like melted tallow.

The talk of making the military age limit from 18 to 45 years carries the mind back to the days of the Civil War. But it will probably not be necessary to stretch the limit so far for some time to come. The young men who are playing baseball for a living ought to be called in first.

A contemporary notes that travelers on the railroads are getting the habit of carrying lunches and neglecting to patronize the dining cars. Perhaps they think that the possession of a bite to eat is, under present conditions, a sufficient evidence of wealth.

Six National Guard cavalry regiments are being raised in Texas for duty on the Mexican border. This should mean something to the German propagandists in Mexico and their dupes.

New York is "lit up" again, but not, let it be hoped, in the slang sense of the term.

TO CONTROL COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

U. S. Health Officials and the Local Physicians to Co-operate in This Matter.

A special meeting of the local medical society, called by the president, was held Thursday evening for the purpose of discussing with the officers of the Public Health Service establishing the sanitary organization for this district the work to be inaugurated in connection with the control of cases of contagious diseases.

It is planned to have a medical inspector who will visit cases reported by the physicians for the institution of quarantine and for the attending to other matters in connection with the cases affecting the public health. There will also be "public" health nurses who will see to the maintenance of quarantine and give instructions in the proper bedside care of cases of communicable disease. The hearty co-operation of the local physicians was assured.

The laboratory, which is being fitted out as rapidly as possible and will be available shortly, will provide for the local physicians a quick service for diagnostic work and they were urged last evening to make free use of this part of the district organization.

The main office of the organization will be on the second floor of the City Hall in Portsmouth, where the personnel already on duty is now quartered. The City Health Department, which will be a part of the organization, will be located in the same quarters. Three rooms are being fitted out for the office and laboratory.

Problems of special importance discussed were those of control of venereal diseases, which are becoming widespread and of special importance in the protection of the health of the military forces, and the smallpox situation. It was made known that the latter disease is now unusually prevalent throughout the country and that several cases have occurred lately in the immediate neighborhood.

On account of the wide-spread prevalence of smallpox it was urged that every person be vaccinated at once as a patriotic duty as well as a personal protection, in order that an epidemic which would paralyze local industrial activities connected with the prosecution of the war, may be averted. It was announced that, for those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity, vaccination for smallpox may now be had free of charge at the office in the City Hall, and that vaccination for typhoid fever will also be available without cost as soon as the laboratory is in operation.

More Coal

(From the New York Herald)

Production of bituminous coal last week was the largest in the history of the industry, nearly twelve and one-half million tons. If the output could be kept up to an average of twelve million tons a week for the remainder of the year the country's requirements would be fully met.

Bound to Win the War

(From the Worcester Telegraph)

"Want me to mow your lawn?" "How much will it cost?" "Fifty cents." "How did you happen to set that figure?" "I have pledged to buy two thrift stamps a week." Go ahead; the machine is there in the back stoop. The boy of about thirteen years did the work and got the money and started for home, third but satisfied. That happened in Worcester on one of those days while the drive was on for the sale of war saving stamps. It is typical of the industry of this country of quick dealings and uncounted dollars and tremendous effect for civilization.

"Run" Is Right

(From the Brooklyn Eagle)

Henry Ford is going to run for the Senate. Honk! Honk!

Why Beef Is High

(From the Brooklyn Eagle)

The wasteful slaughter of calves goes on unabated as the end of the fourth year of the war approaches. We arrive at a limitation of a pound and a quarter of beef to each member of a household, but no suggestion is made to farmers for fear, perhaps, of offending them when calves bring high prices, that this potential beef be conserved. As long as our dairy farms are allowed to ship calves to the slaughter house just so long must we expect to pay high prices for beef. We have an unlimited beef supply if we conserve it, and we have unlimited grazing land. The labor that volunteers to save crops would also volunteer to save beef if called upon to do it. The politicians who are telling us how to win the war skim over the phases the farmers do not like to hear discussed. A farmer never goes "by" of meat. Between the farmer and the hog or stalled steer is no meat trust and no railroad. Dear calves are the farmer's easy dividends. But cheap meat we must have and we cannot get it unless the calves be brought to maturity.

Italy, Our Ally—Show Her Flag!

(From the Chicago Tribune)

German agents are said to be attempting to alienate the Italian-born population in the United States by insidious propaganda to the effect that America is not in sympathy with the Italian cause. They seek to elicit the argument by pointing to the absence of the Italian flag. "If Americans are really sympathetic with Italy," they ask, "why isn't the Italian flag displayed along with the French and British flags?"

It must be admitted we are not giving that appreciation to Italy to which she is entitled. The Italian flag is often more conspicuously by its absence than otherwise. We can understand, too, that this absence is open to misinterpretation.

While other nations have betrayed the Allied cause, Italy has remained steadfast. She proposes to stand with the Allies to the end, though her sufferings have in some respects been as great as here at home can be as to displaying the Italian flag as an earnest of our appreciation of our Italian ally.

FROST DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Beans and Potatoes Suffer Most, in Many Cases Killed Outright.

The heavy frost on Thursday night did much damage to gardens in this city, Hampton, Hyde, Greenland, Newington, Kittery, Elliot, York and other towns in Rockingham and York Counties.

Beans and potatoes well up were damaged the most, and in some cases were killed outright. Flower gardens also suffered from the cold.

The frost on Thursday night was even more severe than on the preceding night, and crops which escaped the first frost were killed last night. This is a serious loss to the farmers as in many sections the crops were well along.

MUSIC WANTED BY THE BOYS OVER THERE

American music is wanted in France and many of our local people can help in an early response to this appeal which affords them the splendid opportunity of doing a patriotic act by contributing Victrola records or sheet music for the boys "Over There."

Alpha Chapter of Delta Delta Delta, the largest national fraternity for women, has taken up the responsibility of trying to do what it can toward supplying our lads in khaki in France with sheet music and records. This chapter of Boston University has also asked each member, either the present or former students to pledge five dollars quarterly toward maintaining a Y. W. C. A. hut in France.

Dr. M. I. Boger has been chosen as the local member of that fraternity to receive collections of music from people in this city and vicinity and any person who wishes to "do their bit" for this patriotic cause may leave them at her office on Middle street and they will be sent to France with the collections gathered by the Boston University.

It is the late popular music that is most wanted and Victrola records which are popular as well as the classic compositions. Nothing but music worth while should be sent across, as it would be useless to send over sheet music or records which would not be appreciated. In giving select what you are sure the soldiers would like to hear and remember, too, that the best is none too good for our fighting men.

Copies of "Keep the Home Fires Burning," "The Long, Long Trail," "Tuck Up Your Troubles" and "Over There," and such popular airs are the kind to send. "Keep the Home Fires Burning" is the war song successor to "The Star-Spangled Banner."

"The Star-Spangled Banner" is sung so much by the British soldiers when they marched away to war. It later took on a new dignity through the power of association. "Keep the Home Fires Burning" bids fair to become historic as it is sung so much by the men in the service and "The Long, Long Trail" is sung everywhere in our soldiers' camps both here and overseas and seems almost a hymn. It is said that the demand for Victrola records of these two beautiful songs is far out of proportion to the supply.

Our boys "Over There" lack the means of making cheerful their long evenings of leisure if they do not have plenty of music and the cry comes back from France for it. Many army men say, "Music will help win the war," so this is a chance for many people to help this patriotic work along in the cause of liberty.

Wells was especially hard hit and potatoes and beans were killed outright, the field being black on Thursday afternoon.

The damage will be several thousand dollars and set back the farmers a great deal, for the crops had a good start and beans and potatoes were well along, but the temperature was so low that they were killed.

The Morley Dutton ball team closed their season with the Sunset league in a blaze of glory, by defeating the leaders the Atlantic 12 to 6. It was a really played game with some brilliant work and at times big league stuff.

The Morley who leave the league owing to the fact that they are unable to retain players, had a mixture in their line up of last evening of all of the other teams, but with the regular battery. The Atlantic had two new men in the Robinson and Robinson both apparently good men.

Murray pitched for the Atlantic and he was hit hard and often, Bill Moran was in the box for the Morley but he was not in his usual good form and he had margin enough not to have to work hard.

The Morleys started right off the reel to get up the game scoring four runs in the initial appearance. Harrington led off with a single and R. the sixth developed a wild streak, but Bailey duplicated the trick. J. Bailey sacrificed them along and they spread on R. Brackett's single to left, Vealand struck out but Connors singled to right and Stevenson bogged it so that he circled the bases with R. Brackett ahead of him and McCabe ending the inning to Silva to Swasey.

To make sure of the game they snatched three more tallies in the second inning. Sorotta struck out, but Moran singled to left, Harrington fanned, but Bailey singled over right scoring Moran, Robinson falling down on the throw in J. Bailey was safe on Swasey's error and they both scored on R. Brackett's drive to left, but he was nipped off second a few minutes later.

They scored again in the fourth three more eggheads on some looping ball after Harrington was retired at first J. Bailey hit to Swasey, who made a line stop but Murray dropped his throw to first, J. Bailey was retired by Swasey, but R. Brackett was given a pass and with two on Veealand singled to center scoring R. Bailey. Connors followed with a single and Brackett and Vealand scored and Connors went to third on O'Brien's wild heave.

Two more were added in the sixth on an error by Robinson and singly by J. Bailey, R. Brackett and Connors the latter getting his fourth single.

The Atlantic scored in the third, P. A. C. A. singled through third and Silva was declared out on an infield fly, Swasey singled to right and Pigeon scored when McCabe threw wild. Robinson was out to R. Bailey and Murray singled over second scoring Swasey and Robinson fanned.

Collins who was on the coaching line got fresh and umpire Woods promptly sent him to the hospital. The Atlantic scored four times in the sixth Murray and Robinson were presented with passes with the way revenue paid, and Hodge was hit killing the bases. O'Brien here connected with a drive to center that netted three bases and three runs, Collins was struck out and Pigeon was safe on Brackett's error which scored O'Brien, Collins gave Bailey another chance to miss and Swasey popped on back of first, but R. Bailey dropped, but he recognized Pigeon off third and doubled Silva at second.

DOVER

Dover, June 21.—A fire which did considerable damage through a tenement block owned by the Valentine Mathias estate on Belknap street was discovered at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by Mrs. Charles D. Gills, one of the occupants. Mrs. Gills smelled smoke and, upon investigation, discovered the fire in the shed of the top flat, which is occupied by Carrol Lund. The burning embers were dropping into the sheds of the tenants below and considerable smoke was coming from the rear of the building. She called the central fire station on the phone and the permanent firemen were soon on hand. As soon as they arrived, they saw it would be impossible for them to control the flames and the general alarm was at once rung. In from box 42 at the corner of Green and Washington streets. When the department arrived several lines of hose were laid and within a short time the fire was extinguished. However, the household goods of all the tenants were practically ruined by smoke and water. It is estimated that the damage to the building will amount to about $2,000. The building is a six tenement flat and is occupied by Charles D. Gills, Charles W. Cross, Carroll Lund and Bernard Gratton.

The graduating exercises of the class of 1918 of Dover high school were held at the Dover Opera house Thursday afternoon. The theatre was beautifully decorated with flags and flow-ers. GREETINGS

To the Citizens of the Town of Kittery

The President of the United States has made an urgent appeal to the people of the United States to subscribe to the War Savings Stamps on or before Friday, June 28, 1918, and that day has been officially designated as War Savings Day by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Governor of this state. All loyal citizens of this community will accordingly devote said day to subscribing for War Savings Stamps, and otherwise propagating their sale in large amounts.

All who are able should pledge themselves to save and invest to the limit allowed by law.

JAMES H. WALKER, HARRY H. WALKER, RALPH E. CLARK, Selections of Kittery.

SAWMILL IS DESTROYED AT SHAPLEIGH

Shapleigh, Me., June 21.—A portable sawmill here, the property of Fred S. Sherborn, was destroyed with its contents Thursday by fire, thought to have been of incendiary origin. Sheriff Hayden A. Roberts and Deputy Sheriff George S. Wiggins will conduct an investigation. The loss was about $200.

"HOCH DER KAISER"

If the "Kaiser Bill" but knew, of our determination He would not have sent his "subs," for mere retaliation For the essential part we take On land and sea for freedom's sake.

He will decry his Lordly boast, of World domination He did not reckon on the strength, of the U. S. nation His "high command," will shortly feel Foesmen worthy of their steel.

On land and sea, when we have won Earth's freedom, from the savage, "Hun" Its then that he will realize Our man power which he once despised.

For freedom and Democracy Our wealth is pouring o'er the sea To teach the domineering Hun! That we always finish what we begun.

From strife we always did refrain The path of peace, our only aim But roused to action, we can show That we can deal a telling blow.

Our brave Marines have showed their zeal On Marne's fields and Thierry's woods They did uphold the stars and stripes And used their bayonets, guns and knife.

Farewell to those who fear us shed Their life and all ambitions dead Beneath the sod where the lilies grow They have sowed the seeds, which we will mow.

—Mortimer Moynihan.

DOESN'T FAIL TO KEEP HIS ENGAGEMENT

(By Associated Press)
Vologda, Russia, June 20.—A with three-day sleigh ride through the white lines of the Finnish White Guards and Red Guards brought Lieutenant Alfred W. Killefoth of the United States Army, to Petrograd just in time to keep his marriage engagement.

Lieutenant Killefoth, who was American passport control officer at Tornio, the Finnish border city at the Swedish frontier, left Tornio for Petrograd at a time when the railway communication was interrupted by the Finnish civil war.

He was forced to leave his train, but obtained a sleigh and after three days journey across the barren, snow covered and wolf-infested interior of Finland, reached another railway line and made his way to Petrograd.

On the night of February 20, after hurried preparations, Lieutenant Killefoth and Miss Barbara Alexandria Leslie were married at one of the larger Petrograd churches. The next day Lieutenant Killefoth and his bride left with a train of American refugees who were fleeing from Petrograd.

But instead of going all the way through to America as he had planned, Lieutenant Killefoth was recalled from a little station on the Trans-Siberian railway to join the embassy staff at Vologda.

Lieutenant Killefoth's home is in Pon du Lac, Wisconsin. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He met his bride while attached to the American embassy at Petrograd.

WORK OF A YANKEE COLLEGE

Amherst, Mass., June 20.—As typical of what New England colleges have accomplished during the past college year, Amherst College, although not a military institution, has prepared a battalion of embryonic army officers for the service of their country. These young men, for the most part below the draft age, have been trained as a part of their college course in the Amherst Reserve Officers Training Corps. Some of age will get commissions, many have gone to seek additional training at Plattsburg and the New England College Training Corps, at Williamstown, Mass., others will return to complete their college course, continue their military training here and await the call.

Virtually every student in college has been in khaki the entire year, the brass on the old Amherst common has been worn down with the tread of their marching feet, and the traditional slouch of the college student has been replaced by the erect, smart bearing that typifies the American army officer.

This "little Yankee College on the hill" has been transformed by the war. Not that scholarship is suffering there—the faculty says the devotion of the college to its former standards and ideals is too deep rooted for that service.

More than a third of the 500 students have gone in the colors long ago, ten members of the faculty have entered civilian war work, other members have been serving in special ways, and military training and preparation for war service has become—but with her Yankee traditions Amherst could not fail to throw herself wholeheartedly into the country's part of the curriculum. Only forty seniors were left to graduate. They and the undergraduates who remained to complete their education now seem rather soldiers than students.

The war spirit has prevailed and faculty members say that in Amherst this spirit has greatly changed the somewhat happy-go-lucky undergraduate of yore. He has become imbued with more real seriousness of purpose and the change is reflected in improved scholastic standing.

With eager enthusiasm the three hundred odd students composing the Officers' Reserve Training Corps have drilled daily under Colonel Richard H. Wilson, U. S. A., retired, and Major Frank C. Damon, Mass. Volunteer Militia, and have been commended as high class officer material.

Yale has her battery, and Amherst has been selected for the establishment of a machine gun unit recognized by the government on the same basis as the Officers' Reserve Training Corps. The organization of a group of advanced students desiring instruction in this branch of the service, important both in trench warfare and in aviation, has been formed this year by Major John K. Elliott, Officer Reserve Training Corps, of the class of 1918, who has completed the government course in machine gun at the Springfield Armory. A Colt automatic and a Browning heavy machine gun, one of the former presented to the college by the class of 1918, are now available for the training of the unit.

In adjusting the curriculum to war needs, the college has supplemented the military training with special courses in map drawing, radio work, navigation, airplane, motors and bacteriology for sanitary work. The chemistry department is doing special research work for the government.

To provide for students within two years of the draft age, a special two year course has been established in which, with certain exceptions, all the usual requirements of the regular college course are waived. The students can elect such subjects as seem most useful during their stay in college and are given the privilege of completing the remainder of the requirements for a degree at any other time.

New England Fuel Administrator URGES COAL FIRE BE ABANDONED

He says that a ton of coal turned into gas by the gas company has greater fuel value than a ton and a half burned in the kitchen range. We have always told you this. Now why do you keep on using coal when it is so scarce and you can get a better fuel by using gas?

PORTSMOUTH GAS CO.,

ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE

ed for immediate transmission. Owing to the extreme rush of telegraph business in recent months, the company found it impossible to transmit all messages offered by wire, it is said, and restored to the messenger system, using fast trains between Eastern cities. So far as is disclosed by the postal authorities, the system was not used extensively in other parts of the country, although investigation will be made to determine this.

The number of agents taken today was not announced by the Post Office Department. It was intimated, however, that the messengers had been followed in their trips for some time and their schedules of delivery had been carefully checked up.

The raids on the train agents were planned for this morning and all were made simultaneously.

WORKERS IN ITALY GET BIG PAY

Rome, June 21.—Woman's labor has doubled in price during the past six months, partly due to the employment given by the government to women in factories directed by the War Department or manufacturing materials for it. In order to be sure of employment a woman or girl must have a husband, father, son or brother at the front. Their lowest pay is 7 lire per day, or 2 to 4 lire above man's wages paid before the war. Many can double this sum by overtime. The wage is not now considered unusual because in the same factories skilled men workers earn as much as 100 lire per day, a sum once equivalent to $20 and before the war the average pay per month of a bookkeeper.

Women not working in such government supply factories have lately struck for fifty per cent increases in the dressmaking and clothing establishments, and obtained their demand, now receiving an average of 4 lire per day. Unskilled women and girls are also so highly paid on the farms that servants are difficult to find.

Do you know that our modern process of Oxygen Acetylene Welding fuses broken cylinders, crankshafts, transmission cases, frame members, housings, plows, tractor parts, stove parts, boiler parts, pumps, into a strong, durable, workable whole at a fraction of the cost of new parts? Our welding is not "stitching" the parts together—it's fusing them into a complete whole. Moderate charges.

BOY SWIMS THE RIVER TO FIGHT COTTAGE FIRE

Blaze Does Considerable Damage at Summer Home in Kittery.

The quick work of a fourteen year old boy, Parker Schurman, prevented the destruction of a cottage by fire at Kittery Junction on Thursday evening and the lad went through some experience to do it.

The family are occupying the cottage Weewoonk for the summer. Between 8:30 and 9 o'clock his mother left the house for a few minutes and on her return she discovered the ironing board had in some way caught fire from the electric flatiron. In trying to extinguish it the couch caught fire and the blaze finally reached the walls. Finding that she could not battle it single handed she cried out to her son who was sailing on a raft quite a distance away in a cove.

The lad knew it would be slow work getting the raft ashore and plunged into the river, clothes and all and swam to the burning building where he coupled up a garden hose and played the part of a brave fire fighter.

In the meantime somebody sounded the alarm and the fire department hurried to the scene, driving the apparatus over the ties and reached of the Portsmouth, Dover and York Street Railway as a quick and shorter way to get to the scene. The boy had it nearly under control when the department arrived although the flames had caused considerable damage. This boy should be made an active member of the town fire department with no questions asked.

HAMPTON BRIDGE OPEN TO STREET CARS

First Trolleys Will Run Sunday; Highway Expected to Be Open by July 4.

For the first time since the Hampton Mill bridge was carried away by ice last winter, street cars will pass over the structure to and from Hampton Beach with the exception of a short distance that is not yet fully completed. A foot path has been made over which passengers will walk from car to car.

Work is progressing rapidly on the highway section of the bridge and it is expected to have it open to traffic by the Fourth of July at the latest, and possibly before.

The reopening of the bridge will come as good news to the hundreds of motorists who have been obliged to take the longer route to and from the beach via Hampton and Smithtown.

THE ATLANTIC DAILY NEWS

Supt. White is proud of his crowd of workmen who are making a record on the ships now under way.

Two of the dormitories, being erected by National Engineering Co., will soon be completed.

It is proposed to erect barracks to accommodate 400 laborers that will be employed on the housing program.

A big steam crane went on a wild trip and wrecked some of the cars. This powerful engine was left standing on an incline and in some way the brakes were released and allowed to crash into the cars on another track.

Vice president Barrows was at the plant on Thursday with several government officials.

NOTES FROM THE NEWINGTON SHIP PLANT

The employees are all in high sleep over prospects of their nine entering the Sunset League. Three different teams are on the diamond getting in trim when the men will be selected for the regular nine. The old time P. A. C. "Sperry" Locke will act as coach and the men will be in uniform at once. General Manager Hewins was much interested and Assistant Engineer Bullard was much elated when informed their team could enter the league.

All the men were lined up to listen to a letter from the shipping board asking the men whether they desired to work Saturday afternoons and Sundays when required. Every man voted "Yes."

The number of employees has now reached the total of over 2500, that number being exceeded by seven on Thursday. Some idea of the amount of cash distributed by L. H. Shattuck, Inc., will be gained when the Herald states it with the total payroll this week exceeding $95,000.

It is now planned to have a recreation building for the men.

Everything is going well towards the success of the proposed lunching on July 1.

Vice-President Jackson from Concord was at the yard on Thursday.
